To Whom It May Concern:

IOS Consulting Group has been providing Burrard Clean Operations with their services and expertise since 1994

We converted our accounting system from ACCPAC to Adagio in two stages, and started with Adagio Invoicing in 2002, and while our invoicing requirements are relatively small, we do have a number of different types. The balance of our conversion (Accounts Payable/Receivable, and General Ledger) was completed in early 2004.

The ease of the conversion to Adagio was due in large part to IOS, and we experienced none of the problems typically associated with changes in software packages. Knowing that ACCPAC could be used as a backup if we encountered any problems with Adagio during this period, provided us with the reassurance of being able continue with our daily accounting without interruption.

I particularly like the option available in Adagio of directly printing a financial statement in Excel which is a time saver when emailing statements to our Board of Directors. There are many features of Adagio which make it preferable to ACCPAC.

We're pleased with the services provided by IOS Consulting, and the Adagio accounting system, and have no hesitation in recommending them.

Yours very truly,
