To Whom It May Concern;

Neto has been using the services of IOS Consulting Group since May 2001 for on-site consultation regarding our accounting system, Adagio. IOS Consulting installed the new programs for us, and fully converted, with 'no muss-no fuss', our entire accounting software over from AccPac to Adagio. We were very pleased with the friendly, yet very professional service they gave us; and the seamless way the conversion was done. Kerry (from IOS) took us in one step from AccPac to Adagio, with no more than a few hours down time – and this was done for all three of our active companies in that time frame!

The ease of operating the Adagio system, in my opinion, is second to none. The drill down menus and the ease of looking up details of a transaction from any screen would be my high points if I had to choose just one feature that I couldn't live without. The ease of adjusting little things in the financial statements is another reason that we are glad we switched software packages, there is no longer any confusing specs and codes to learn. We have also been running smoothly for three years now, with no major 'glitches' that have come to the surface.

We have had an ongoing business relationship with IOS Consulting for system support and purchasing new products through the last 3 years. We are very happy with both IOS Consulting Group and the Adagio accounting system and would not hesitate to recommend them to anyone.

Sincerely yours
